PRESS RELEASE

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Lexington, South Carolina

January 30, 2012

The Lexington Police Department recently presented Matt Davis the "2011 Employee of the Year" award. As stated by his peers in their nominations, "Lt. Davis is a supervisor who leads by example, who is respected and well liked. He treats suspects, victims, and the general public in a kind and respectful manner."

Matt started with the Lexington Police Department in 1996 as a Patrol Officer. He worked his way up through the ranks and was promoted to Lieutenant of the Criminal Investigations Division in October 2006. He serves as a Hostage Negotiator, Driving Instructor, Ground Defense Instructor, the Department's Public Information Officer, and is on the Crimestoppers Board. On January 1, 2012, Lt. Davis began his new duties as Commander of the Special Operations Division. Matt and his wife, Sandra, live in Lexington with their two sons and a daughter.

For his incredibly hard work and dedication to the Lexington Police Department, we are proud to announce Matt Davis as Lexington Police Department's 2011 Employee of the Year.
