NEWS RELEASE

For Immediate Release

LPD RESERVE OFFICER PROMOTED TO SERGEANT

Lexington, S.C. (April 11, 2016) – Last week Chief Terrence Green promoted Officer Ed Rivers to the rank of Sergeant within the Reserve Police Officer Program of the Lexington Police Department. Sergeant Ed Rivers has been with the Lexington Police Department since September of 2007 in the position of Reserve Police Officer. Last year Sergeant Ed Rivers worked over 250 hours with the Patrol Division as well as assisting with special events, parades, and foot races.

Chief Terrence Green stated, "Sergeant Ed Rivers lives a life of volunteerism and the Lexington Police Department is fortunate for his service to the Town of Lexington. This promotion recognizes his commitment and years of service with our department. The Reserve Police Officer Program, along with the other volunteer programs of the Lexington Police Department, are great ways that those interested can give back in serving this community."

Sergeant Ed Rivers teaches law enforcement studies at the Lexington Technology Center and is a First Lieutenant in the South Carolina National Guard, serving as Company Commander for the Forward Support Company in Edgefield, SC. He is also a Pastor with the Newberry Faith Assembly in Newberry, SC.
