PRESS RELEASE

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
Lexington, South Carolina
December 19, 2012

Christmas 2012 will be a little brighter for local children through another successful campaign for the Midlands Toys for Tots. After sponsoring collection points for donations at K-Mart, Wal-Mart, Comfort Suits and The Shoal Creek Neighborhood the Lexington Police Department SWAT van was filled with toys for the Marines to deliver to families.

The Lexington Police Department's Community Action Team (C.A.T.), along with the local U.S. Marine Corps, would like to thank the Lexington community for their continuing support of the program. With the current economic situation, many folks would not have been able to provide a Christmas for their children without your donations to this very worthwhile program. Once again, we're proud to say that the Lexington community stepped up to take care of the needs of many.
